AFFIRMING YOUR FAITH

WHAT IS THE BASIS FOR THE CHURCH OF SCHIZOPHRENIA

"SCHIZOPHRENIA" is the term used by various infidels, scientific atheists and Satan worshipers to villainize and demonize people who show signs of Spiritual development. These people generally believe that nothing exists beyond the physical universe and that the physical universe was a random chance accident. They deny the existence of any Creator.

Most of these people are simply Spiritually immature. Many activities of adults would seem strange to children. However, when children grow up they understand. Unfortunately, most people never grow up Spiritually and so they will never understand Spiritual people or Spiritual development.

Essentially all qualities of Spiritual people are lumped together by these ignorant souls [who deny they even have a Soul] under the "illness" of schizophrenia. Any type of out-of-body experience, clairvoyant experience or clairaudient experience will qualify you to be labeled as schizophrenic.

The basis of the Church of Schizophrenia is to assert our belief that schizophrenia is not some unexplainable illness but is, in fact, the natural process of Spiritual awakening that everyone will experience eventually although not necessarily in this lifetime. Religious beliefs are above US law and cannot be challenged by the government. The constitution prohibits this. In fact, the government is prohibited from even attempting to define what is or is not religion because to do this would be interference in religion.

Psychiatrists voice concern that the number of cases of schizophrenia is on the increase. They see this as a negative event. However, it is a very positive event for Spiritual people because it means the planet is experiencing a period of Spiritual awakening.

If most of the inhabitants of this planet were Spiritually mature, it would be the psychiatrists and their minions who would need to be locked away as "Spiritually defective". They would be considered a threat to the social order. Unfortunately, since the majority of the population are Spiritually immature infidels, it is the Spiritual people who are under attack.

OUR RIGHT TO EXIST IS GUARANTEED BY THE US CONSTITUTION

We have a constitutionally guaranteed right to exist and to be free from outside interference of any kind. This right, in the United States, is guaranteed by the freedom of religion clauses in the US Constitution.

Psychiatrists have no such right. Psychiatrists are agents of the state because the state empowers them to force their will on others. Because of the concept of separation of church and state, theoretically psychiatrists are forbidden to have anything to do with Spiritual things and should be prohibited from coming anywhere near us. Clearly, this policy is not enforced.

One primary goal of any Church of Schizophrenia organization should be to see that the constitution is enforced and that psychiatrists are forbidden to interfere in the lives of church members.

WE ARE GOD'S CHOSEN PEOPLE

We have been given the Spiritual gift of seeing and hearing that which the infidels cannot. Our names are written in the "Book Of Life". The names of infidels are not. It is our duty to conquer this planet in the name of GOD and defeat the Satan worshipers who are presently in control. They must be destroyed. If they are not, they will not only kill all of us but the rulership of this world will forever remain with the Satan worshipers, their minions and the ignorant masses who are unaware.

We need to organize, increase our numbers and prepare for the final battle so that the power of GOD will triumph and Satan will be cast out.

THE OTHERS

Perhaps the main qualification, unfortunately, for being labeled schizophrenic is simply being in the wrong place at the wrong time. There are others, essentially equivalent to you, who live in this world but go unnoticed and unhindered by psychiatrists. Because of their circumstances, they never happen to cross paths with psychiatrists - at least in a negative way.

Many religious organizations and "orders" have highly psychic or Spiritual groups within them, however their true nature is kept secret by the organization and members do not talk. Some groups are positive or "white" while others are negative or "black". Buddhists monks and nuns are generally positive while the Jesuit order, for example, is generally negative. The US government trains psychics but is only interested in the black arts.

Psychic abilities are necessary to legitimately practice advanced healing techniques such as Reiki. You can't do this work without Astral vision which means you can see into the dimensions which remain invisible and unknown to most people. Seeing "invisible" things could qualify you as schizophrenic - if you were stupid enough to tell anybody. So, you are trained to do your work but never to get into detail about what your work actually is. This avoids any potential problems.

Witchcraft covens generally strive for some level of psychic development but each group is different and limited by the skill level of that group's high priest or priestess. They protect themselves with a strict code of secrecy.

So, on a daily basis, people who walk the streets with you, work with you or are your neighbors may be just as "sick" as you are but live free and are never discovered or harassed by psychiatrists because the lifestyle they have protects them. These people, for want of a better word, are "the others". If you should happen to become friends with one of them, it is possible you could get invited to join with them and live out your life as you please under the protection of secrecy as you will now be perceived as "normal" to the uninitiated.

SOCIETY IS "SICKER" THAN YOU CAN EVER BE

Realize that you live in a sick society. This society wants a simple life and finds the truth about most anything scary and upsetting. Therefore, they deny that it exists. Society has always chosen to ignore or get rid of anyone who tries to tell them the truth rather than undergo the pain and inconvenience that accepting truth may bring.

They have done this consistently throughout history. They used to believe the earth was flat and also the center of the universe. People who disagreed were killed, generally by the church. They eventually had to give up that belief but most still hold to the equally ridiculous idea that even though the earth is not flat and is not the center of the universe, the people on the earth are the only intelligent life in the universe. The church has lost its power to kill "heretics" but psychiatrists have now taken over for them so you would not want one of them to think you believe in aliens.

Social engineering schemes to force society to appear to conform to an imaginary, unachievable ideal are still practiced. Canada came up with a scheme in which it proclaimed it was morally perfect and that there were no children born out of wedlock in Canada. They sent the kids to secret prisons so no one could find them. Later, as adults, they organized and sued the government which then had to admit to its covert "morality" plan.

So, if you happen to be smart and curious, you will eventually stumble into some truth about something that frightens society. If you survive, you may make the world a slightly better place. If psychiatrists find you first, you will be brain damaged into a mindless zombie and no one will ever know you existed.

PSYCHIATRY IS A STATE SPONSORED RELIGION

Generally, garden variety religions are extra judicial systems of laws and punishments which form a parallel government and cover aspects of life which traditional government laws do not. While most traditional governments will forbid things like stealing, murder and fraud, they do not specify how people are to think from moment to moment or day to day. Classical religion covers these areas. Religion can enforce its arbitrary rules of life by methods such as threats of hell or excommunication from the group. Generally, they have some vague explanation for where their "holy rule book" originated like saying someone was led long ago by angles to a secret invisible manuscript that only he could see.

Psychiatry does essentially the same thing in a slightly different way. It is a godless religion. Instead of high priests it has technocrats who claim that their superior intellectual skills give them the right to say how others should live their lives. When they meet periodically, they will write specifications for, for example, how many days someone should grieve after the death of a loved one. Anyone exceeding the specified number would be labeled "sick" by psychiatrists which would be equivalent to being labeled "sinner" by a conventional religion.

Conventional religions can cause considerable psychic damage to those who violate its tenets. Excommunication can effectively ruin a persons life in situations where the community they live in accepts the religion as fact. However, you can always leave. Nothing is actually holding you to your location and, other than "bad mouthing" you, there is little the religious leaders can do.

Unfortunately, psychiatry, which is sanctioned by the state and enforced by the police, can do much more. They can wreck your life, ruin your body and mind with chemical warfare agents mislabeled as drugs and, eventually, kill you. You can't just "walk away" as you could with a conventional church because police will chase you and drag you back into the clutches of psychiatrists. Even if you survive, you will be excommunicated by everyone who believes in psychiatry. Remember, psychiatry is not based upon any type of hard evidence. It is simply a collection of the opinions of self proclaimed experts stating how they believe you should live your life. It is no different in theory from cults which demand that you shave your head, don't cut your hair at all, grow a beard or not, wear special clothes, or whatever.
